STRIKE COMES AS SURPRISE

One Thousand Miners Leave Homes In West Virginia Coal Fields

ARE LIVING IN TENTS

Action Complicates a Situation Already Mixed and Very Serious—Governor Hatfield in Conference With Military Advisors.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Charleston, W. Va., May 22.—Disputes in the West Virginia coal fields reached a new angle last night when 1,000 miners, employed in the New River coal field, with their families, left their homes and sought the protection of the United Mine Workers of America. It is said that all of them intend to live in tents.

The strike in the New River coal field, while anticipated, came as a surprise. Thomas Cairns, president of District No. 17, United Mine Workers of America, brought the report of the trouble to this city. He had been visiting the New River field where a few days ago the miners organized District 23, United Mine Workers of America, with a membership of 15,000.

The action of the New River field miners in beginning a strike is said to have complicated a situation that is already mixed and serious. Senator Kern of Indiana, has introduced a resolution in the United States senate providing for a federal investigation of the West Virginia coal strike. The matter is now before the senate committee on education and labor. The national Socialist party is making an investigation of conditions, Eugene V. Debs, former candidate for president, and Adolph Germer of Illinois, having taken up the inquiry here. Later Victor L. Berger, former member of congress, the third member of the Socialist committee, is to assist Debs and Germer. The coal strike originating in the Kanawha coal fields, has been of long duration. Martial law has been proclaimed and is still in effect, although but few soldiers are in that field.

All three orders for martial law were issued by former Governor Wm. E. Glasscock, since the beginning of the mine trouble, April 1, 1912. Governor H. D. Hatfield, who succeeded Governor Glasscock March 4 last, has announced that troops are to man the Kanawha district until he is satisfied that "a crusade of insurrection and riot ceases."

Through the entire strike has run a period of bloodshed and rioting. It has been an utter impossibility to check the violations as they were scattered and occurred in isolated mountain spots.

After a conference with military advisors and others, which lasted until 2 o'clock this morning, Governor Hatfield ordered the release of 12 men under martial law. They were released on their own recognizance.

They were Charles L. Boswell, George P. Parsons, John W. Brown, C. W. Lavender, Thomas Miskel, Charles Kenney, Nelson Tredway, John Sechrist, A. D. Lavender, W. H. Thompson, R. C. Rumbaugh, and Crockett Webb. The government did not release Fritz Messick of Pittsburgh, Pa., editor of "Justice," a socialist publication, arrested here while editing a local paper.

Early this morning the governor reiterated that martial law would be continued for the present.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Charleston, W. Va., May 22.—It became known this afternoon that Governor Hatfield, before he ordered the release this morning of twelve military prisoners, had secured a great deal of information to uphold his contention that a revolutionary conspiracy exists in the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek coal districts. According to the story, the governor will present this evidence, some of which is said to be in the form of confessions, to the senate committee should it come to West Virginia to investigate the coal strike and the activities of the military. Governor Hatfield refused to discuss this phase of the situation.

PROGRESSIVE APPOINTED BY GOVERNOR COX

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, O., May 22.—Governor Cox at noon made four additional appointments, in appointing Karl T. Webber of Columbus, member of the board of uniform state laws, he recognized for the first time a member of the Progressive party. Webber was a delegate to the Progressive national convention at Chicago last summer.

The other appointments were Judge B. M. McCann of Dayton, to succeed Oscar T. Corson, of Columbus, as a trustee of Ohio State University, Dr. J. H. Upham, of Columbus, member of the state medical board to succeed Dr. James A. Duncan, of Toledo, and Carl H. Nau, of Cleveland and John J. McKnight of Columbus, to succeed themselves as members of the state board of accountancy.

DEATH COMES TO CAPT. ANTHONY, AGED SEAMAN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New Bedford, Mass., May 22.—Captain George S. Anthony, who as commander of the Bark Catalpa rescued six Fenian prisoners from a British penal colony in Australia in 1876, died today, aged 70 years. The Catalpa sailed ostensibly for a whaling voyage and after cruising about for several months, made a dash for the Australian coast, took the prisoners on board and carried them to New York.

Five Suspects Arrested In Connection With Murder of Little Grace Johnson

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Pittsburg, May 22.—Although the police have five men under arrest in connection with the murder of Grace Johnson, a school girl, on Monday, near Blackburn, the detectives and the state constabulary continue the search for the guilty party.

Two important clues have been unearthed. On Sunday, it is said, a strange man stopped two girls in the town of Pittsburg, Pa., near the scene of the murder. He endeavored to induce the children to go into the woods. The girls refused to accompany him. Marie Antonio, a child who was ill, happened to see the stranger approach the girls and yelled at him from an open window. The child's mother rushed into the room and Marie informed her of what had taken place. On Monday the child died, supposedly from the shock.

Another clue comes from Turtle Creek. Several women and children yesterday notified the state constabulary that they had seen a man Tuesday loitering on a hillside near the town. According to their story the face of the stranger was scratched and cut.

Three men arrested yesterday are being held in the Wilmerding lock-up. The names they gave follow: William D. Arnold of New York; Albert Levin of Buffalo; Albert Turner of Chillicothe, Ohio. The other men were arrested at Trafford Tuesday. The police refuse to divulge their names.

Struggle is Over for the Young Macon Banker Who Bravely Has Been Facing Death For a Week

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Macon, Ga., May 22.—After bravely facing for a week, the inevitable result of his mistake in taking a tablet of bichloride of mercury, B. Sanders Walker, a young Macon banker, died this morning at 1:35 o'clock. Members of the family had gathered at his bedside several days ago, when the doctors announced there was no hope for him. When the end neared today Walker gave no sign of flinching but went to his death with a resignation that has rendered the case more than usually interesting throughout the country. During the last day Walker was under the influence of opiates most of the time, but in conscious intervals gave evidence that he was not suffering.

Scores of sympathetic messages were received by the family, and many of them were in the nature of inquiries as to the treatment being given Mr. Walker.

It has been impossible to learn definitely what course the physicians took as they have refused to talk, except to briefly trace the progress of the slow poison's deadly effect. Members of the family are quoted as expressing much dissatisfaction in some of the reports which have originated in Macon. They declare that Mr. Walker was constantly in his bedroom after it was discovered that he had taken the tablet of poison in mistake for a headache remedy.

ROYALTY ARRIVING AT BERLIN

To Attend Wedding of Daughter of Emperor William Saturday

NICHOLAS OF RUSSIA

Arrived in Armored Train This Morning—Enthusiastic Crowds Pack Every Available Space to View the Royal Procession.

Berlin, May 22.—The gathering of three emperors—those of Germany, Russia and the British dominions—for the wedding on Saturday of Princess Victoria Louise and Prince Ernest August of Cumberland, has made the German capital the center of European interest.

Besides the three great rulers, only daughter of Emperor William at her marriage is to be surrounded by such a gathering of princes and princesses as rarely has been brought together.

Berlin had made elaborate preparations for the occasion. The city is gay with bunting, the people are in holiday humor and the streets swarm with brilliantly uniformed soldiers. Extensive precautions have been taken for the safety of the royal personages, the Prussian police being assigned by large bodies of Russian and British detectives, while the soldiers at the stations and lining the routes of the royal procession carry loaded rifles.

None of the ladies of the imperial and royal families participated in the welcome of Emperor Nicholas at the station, since he was not accompanied by the Russian empress. The scene, however, gained in magnificence, owing to the presence of King George of England with his suite, the exotic uniforms and striking white wool caps of the Russian emperor's attendants, and the vari-colored robes of several Russian priests.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Berlin, May 22.—Emperor Nicholas, of Russia, arrived in Berlin this morning to attend the wedding of Princess Victoria Louise, only daughter of Emperor William, to Prince Ernest August of Cumberland.

The Russian emperor was met at the station by Emperor William and King George of England, and a great gathering of members of the various royal families. The Russian emperor drove with his imperial host in state to the castle.

The wedding takes place on Saturday. Emperor Nicholas' journey from the frontier station at Eydtkuhn to Berlin was made in the Russian imperial armored train. The arrangements made by the Berlin police authorities for the plan of his majesty were very comprehensive. The police were assisted in carrying them out by a considerable force of Russian detachments. (Continued on Page 9, col. 3)

JAPAN'S EMPEROR SERIOUSLY ILL; HAS HIGH FEVER

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Tokyo, May 22.—Emperor Yoshihito of Japan was taken ill today. The physicians in attendance declare that he is suffering from inflammation of the lungs. He is in a state of high fever and eight court physicians are in constant attendance on him.

The emperor of Japan succeeded his father on July 30, 1912. He is in his thirty-fourth year and has three sons, the eldest of whom is Crown Prince Hirohito, just 12 years old. The emperor has previously suffered from lung trouble and in the course of one attack early in 1908, his condition was very serious.

The emperor caught a slight cold on May 18, but it was announced that it was unimportant and that his majesty would soon resume his activities.

Tonight the nation was shocked by the issue of this official bulletin from the imperial palace signed by the eight court physicians:

"The emperor who has been suffering from a slight cold, developed inflammation of the lungs today. We do not consider his condition justifies great anxiety but his temperature is high."

FOUR KILLED IN EXPLOSION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Sacramento, Calif., May 22.—Four men were killed and one probably fatally hurt in an explosion today at Iceland, near Truckee, Calif. The men were employed in construction work on the Southern Pacific.

BANK MESSENGER GAVE BATTLE TO THE HIGHWAYMEN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, May 22.—James T. Wintress, a bank messenger, gave a battle in the street today to four highwaymen who leaped into his carriage and attempted to wrest from him the payroll of the Nathan Manufacturing company. Resisting their efforts to subdue him with a rifle, a revolver and clubs, he fought to such a good purpose that he saved the money, although he was shot in the arm and his scalp laid open with a blow from a club.

Policemen on fixed posts heard the shooting and ran to his aid. At their approach the highwaymen fled. One of them was shot by a blue coat, another was captured after a thrilling chase; two of them escaped.

Wintress was taken to a hospital; the two prisoners were held without bail by the police and a squad of detectives was rushed to the upper east side to search for the highwaymen who escaped.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Tokyo, May 22.—The committee of the Japanese parliament today made a favorable report on the proposed appropriation of $600,000 for the representation of Japan at the Panama exposition to be held at San Francisco in 1915.

PROTECTION SOUGHT FOR SHADE TREES

Temporary Restraining Order Issued Against the Utica and Homer Telephone Company—Court News.

Judge Edwin Mansfield Thursday granted an order temporarily restraining the Utica and Homer Telephone company from removing its line in front of A. R. Reynard's property to a point where, he says, his shade trees will be damaged.

Reynard owns a farm on the Utica-Homer road, over which the telephone company's poles and wire are strung. In a petition filed in common pleas court he contends that the company is about to remove its poles to the north, thus interfering with his shade trees. He gave $200 bond with the granting of the temporary order which holds until the case may be heard on its merits. Carl Norpell is attorney for the plaintiff.

INJURED IN FALL DOWN STEPS OF LANSING BLOCK

David Wallace, age 65, a well known agent for proprietary preparations, sustained severe injuries in a fall down the steps in the Lansing block about 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Several bad cuts about the head were discovered by a hasty examination by Dr. P. H. Cosner, who ordered him removed at once to the Sanitarium. Bazler & Bradley's ambulance was called and Mr. Wallace was rushed to the institution where he was attended by Dr. Cosner.

It is believed that Wallace made a mistake as he started down the flight and he fell headlong to the bottom. On account of his advanced years his injuries are more serious.

Mr. Wallace has apartments in the Lansing block.

EXTRA GUARDS WATCHING OVER LIVE CHICKENS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, May 22.—Extra guards are surrounding the West Washington market where 30,000 live chickens, alleged to have been fed sand to make them weigh heavier, are piled high in their crates under a boycott by the association of poultry dealers. Rumor last night of plots to poison the chickens was the cause of extreme care taken to guard their quarters.

Commercial men remained in their stalls all night. In Jersey City where the arrival of fresh trains from the south and west had brought the number of boxed chickens up to more than thirty carloads, or 120,000, there also were reports of poison plots and the attendants were warned to be on the lookout for strangers in the yards.

Reports that thousands of the sand fed chickens were either starving or dying of disease yesterday resulted in investigations by the New York and New Jersey City health officers. So far the health officers have taken no action on either these complaints of the charge that the chickens have been and are being given overdoses of sand by shippers. There were no sales of the chickens yesterday, the wholesalers maintaining that they would buy no more "weighted" fowls.

ESCAPES FROM REFORMATORY.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, O., May 22.—Police of Ohio cities have been asked by state officials to be on the lookout for Harry Thomas, aged 18, of Springfield, who escaped from the Mansfield reformatory yesterday. He was serving an indeterminate sentence for attempted burglary.

TESTIMONY OF BREEN CONTINUED

Undertaker Who Has Confessed to Dynamite Planting Again on Stand

$7,000 OFFER REFUSED

Made Witness by Attorney Was Part of Testimony—Crowd Fills Court Room to Hear Conspiracy Trial.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Boston, May 22.—An attempt to discredit the testimony of John J. Breen, one of the principal witnesses for the prosecution, was made by Attorney Daniel H. Coakley, counsel for Frederick E. Atteaux, at today's session of the trial of Atteaux, President Wm. M. Wood, of the American Woolen company, and Dennis J. Collins, for conspiracy to "plant" dynamite at Lawrence during the textile strike last year.

Breen, who says that Atteaux hired him to plant the explosive, admitted today under cross-examination that he made false statements repeatedly relative to the case, but declared that in his testimony he had told nothing but the truth.

The witness told of the payment to him by Atteaux of $500 on January 19, 1912, the day the dynamite was taken to Lawrence. Breen said that he stood at the corner of Franklin and Washington streets, Boston, at 5:30 p. m. when Atteaux drove up in a taxicab and said to him "Follow me John. The money is in the package, I will drop it and no one can ever say that I gave you anything."

Breen said that he followed about a foot behind Atteaux and that when the package was dropped he picked it up.

Replying to Mr. Coakley, Breen said that the corner where the transaction took place, was a very busy one at 5:30 p. m., with hundreds of persons passing. He knew no reason, he said, why Atteaux should select such a spot for payment in preference to the privacy of his own office where no one could see or hear what was happening. Although there were many people on the street at the time, he was not afraid that he might be seen or that the package might be picked up by some other person before he reached it.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Boston, May 22.—John J. Breen, the undertaker who has confessed that he distributed the textile strike of 1912, was ready to continue his testimony under cross-examination when the trial of President William M. Wood, of the American Woolen company, Fred E. Atteaux and Dennis J. Collins, was resumed. (Continued on Page 9, col. 5)

Engineer David Lowery and Fireman J. Hardy of B. & O. train No. 105, due in Newark at 2:10 a. m., sustained severe bruises in the shake-up which accompanied a collision in the Zanesville yards Thursday morning. Official investigation is in progress.

At 1:53 o'clock Thursday morning No. 105 struck a yard engine at a point just east of the Zanesville depot. Both engines were damaged. The trainmen stuck to their posts. Passengers were slightly shaken but none hurt, say officials.

The train was delayed two hours and twenty-eight minutes by the collision.

COLLECTION FOR CLEANING CAPITAL BY SOCIETY WOMEN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, May 22.—With a one day collection of $5,400, of which Mrs. Woodrow Wilson contributed $100, society women of Washington today took the first steps toward cleaning up some of the capital. Mrs. Wilson on at least two occasions, has quietly investigated the noisome alleys and narrow courts in which several thousand persons are housed, and knows personally the conditions that prevail in those sections. The money will be used to aid further in the elimination of unsanitary dwellings in the slums, and the substitution of clean and wholesome houses that can be rented at nominal cost.

The present officials of the company will be re-elected this afternoon.

FRENCH SHIP IS DAMAGED BY TURKISH MINE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Smyrna, Asia, May 22.—The French liner Senegal lies beached on the harbor front here today, half of her hull torn away by accidental explosion of a mine, as she was leaving port late today. The explosion was a terrific one, instantly killing five persons and fatally injuring six others. Fortunately for those on board, the liner was close to shore and in shallow water, and maintained under headway after the explosion to enable the captain to run her aground. All the injured members of the crew and passengers were landed safely.

NEGRO MOB WANTED TO LYNCH ROBINSON

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Kansas City, Mo., May 22.—A mob of 500 negroes surrounded the Flora avenue police station in the negro quarters of this city today, howling for the death of Wesley Robinson, one of their race, who last night confessed, the police say, to slaying his wife and daughter with a hatchet last Saturday night. After a determined stand by the police the negro was hustled through the mob to a motor car and carried to police headquarters.

Jennie Hill, a negro, whom in his confession Robinson is said to have implicated in the murder, was confined in the woman's cells in the same police station. Her screams could be heard above the mob's cries.

Sheriff and Deputy Repulse Mob Making Attack on County Jail

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Hiawatha, Kansas, May 22.—A second attempt by a band of men from Falls City, Neb., to lynch Walter Ballew, a negro held in jail here, charged with an attack upon Mrs. Anna Keller of Falls City last Sunday night, was frustrated early today by Sheriff Moore and Under Sheriff Bartlow, who repulsed a desperate attack on the jail in the course of which the door was battered down and window panes broken and walls scarred by bullets.

Five motor cars bearing more than a score of armed Falls City men drove up to the jail shortly after 2 o'clock this morning. The sound of gunshots and the patter of bullets on the walls was the first signal of the attack.

Under-Sheriff Bartlow, whose residence is in the jail building, had stationed deputies inside the building in anticipation of trouble. Four

PEACEFUL SOLUTION DESIRED

By Japanese in the Settlement of the Difficulty in California

MEMBERS OF COMMISSION

Headed by Soroku Ebara, the Venerable Japanese Statesman and Member of the House of Peers, are Investigating Conditions.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) San Francisco, May 22.—Cool-headedness and moderation were urged upon the Japanese residents of California at a mass meeting last night by Soroku Ebara, a member of the House of Peers and from several others of the commission sent to this state to investigate the Japanese land holding controversy.

The venerable statesman pointed out that it was the unanimous desire of the people of his country to reach a satisfactory settlement of the difficulty and it undoubtedly could be accomplished by peaceable means. The relations between the two countries he said, had been such in the past as to preclude the possibility of any but amicable settlement.

"The whole of Japan—the government, the political parties and the commercial bodies—is unanimously endeavoring," he said, "to solve this California question peacefully. And it seems to me that the Japanese government is fully competent to settle this difficulty satisfactorily. There is absolutely no need for you to pack up your things to go back to Japan in fear of something happening."

"California is only one part of this great country after all. Fortunately for you, you have the sympathy of the federal government and a greater part of the citizens of this country. Even in California, you have a great many supporters and sympathizers. I have always admired the American people for their greatness for their sense of justice and fair play. With these qualifications in mind, you must be heard above the mob's cries."

Back to The Smaller Cities.

(By Chalmers L. Pancoast.)

Manufacturers seeking new locations for mills and factories, practical capitalists, investors looking for paying investments, are turning their attention to the smaller cities.

The "Back to the farm" movement we hear so much about is insignificant compared to the "Back to the small city" movement.

Farms are attracting farmers, but the skilled mechanics and mill hands are seeking employment in the smaller cities where they can own their own homes, have small gardens, engage in chicken raising and other profitable undertakings not possible in the large cities.

The problem of the high cost of living is being solved by this "Back to the smaller city" movement. The town that boasts itself, builds and advertises its great advantages to factory-builders and homeseekers is the town that will grow the most rapidly.

SKIN ERUPTIONS QUICKLY VANISH

Modern Methods of Treating Skin Diseases Vastly Superior to Old Treatments.

AFFLICTED SINCE CHILDHOOD

New Jersey Woman Relieved of Distressing Trouble by United Doctors in Less Than One Month.

One of the most common of the present day ailments and one that causes great mental distress to the afflicted parties, is any skin or facial eruption.

Few indeed are those facially disfigured, with blemished skins due to impoverished condition of the blood, who fail to do their utmost to cure this condition.

In times past with the methods of treatment then in use for skin troubles it has taken from months to many years to cure the more serious forms of skin diseases. In more recent years and even within the last twelve months more scientific ways for the quick eradication of these troubles have been discovered.

The United Doctors, who have their Newark Institute on the second floor of the Arcade building, use the most modern and best methods for all diseases that they treat. They never operate or use the knife and yet have had remarkable results in nearly all chronic ailments, including diseases of the nerves, blood, heart, liver, kidneys, bladder, skin, spine, including rheumatism, paralysis, epilepsy, gall stones, goitre, indigestion, constipation, neuralgia, catarrh, dyspepsia, loss of nerve force and diseases of women and diseases of men.

The following statement of Mrs. Geo. W. Parker, of Yardville, N. J., cites an interesting illustration of what the United Doctors' treatment is daily accomplishing in their many institutes throughout the country.

"To the Public:—
"I have had nervous trouble and also skin eruption of a very annoying and stubborn nature since childhood. It seemed that nothing I could do would have any effect whatever on it.

"I wish to say to the public that with three weeks of the United Doctors' treatment my condition was wonderfully improved. My skin trouble is gone and I feel so much better in every way that I hardly know how to express it. I hope this statement may be of benefit to other people in need of aid for such conditions."

HUERTA ACCUSED OF HIGH TREASON

Formal Charges Made by Former Mexican Congressman.

PENALTY MAY BE DEATH.

H. Barron, Former Madero Agent, Forwards Document to Mexican House of Representatives From New York City Citing Grounds For Articles of Impeachment.

New York.—Charges of rebellion and treason, of usurpation of functions and violence against prisoners have been preferred against General Victoriano Huerta, provisional president of Mexico, by Heriberto Barron, who was commercial agent at New York for General Francisco Madero, constitutional president of Mexico, who was assassinated on the night of Feb. 22, this year, when on the way, as Huerta's prisoner, from the national palace to a prison on the outskirts of the capital.

Senator Barron, formerly a member of the Mexican congress from the state of Chihuahua, is now a resident of this city. His charges have been forwarded to the City of Mexico, and they will be laid before the house of representatives there. Accompanying the charges is a petition urging that General Huerta be impeached and subjected to the penalty for his alleged crimes, which is death under the constitution of Mexico.

There are three separate counts in Senator Barron's complaint and petition, and each count is supported by quotations from the Mexican constitution and from the code of military law.

General Huerta, it is alleged, was a traitor from the time General Felix Diaz got out of prison, making no effective use whatever of his troops, finally sacrificing them in an impossible attack on the Diaz forces, after which he deprived President Madero of the loyal troops guarding the palace, substituting for them the traitorous soldiers of General Blanquet.

Then, says Senator Barron, there were several secret conferences between General Huerta and the American ambassador, Henry Lane Wilson. One of these conferences, it is averred, was on Feb. 17, the very day before Huerta and Blanquet came out in open revolt and ordered the imprisonment and detention in the national palace of President Madero, Vice President Jose M. Pino Suarez, several members of the cabinet, the governor of the federal district and Congressman Gustavo Madero, a brother of the president.

The code of military law is quoted to show that General Huerta was guilty of rebellion and treason in that he withdrew from the obedience of the government, used his troops in hostility to the government and incited a revolt.

The Mexican military code provides the penalty of death for any officer whose unnecessary violence against a prisoner causes the death of the prisoner. On that count Senator Barron calls for the death of Huerta because of the assassination of Madero when in Huerta's custody. It is alleged that the statement which General Huerta gave to the press and public regarding the circumstances of Madero's death was deliberately false.

In concluding his petition Senator Barron says:

"It is shameful for Mexico that even for a few weeks there could have endured a spurious government based upon treason, usurpation and crime. Mexico forms part of the civilized world. Her social, commercial, literary and other relations with the rest of the universe oblige us to maintain before other nations a decorous attitude, because in modern times there is not a nation which can endure while delivering herself to acts of savagery horrifying to the civilized world."

AGED VETERAN A WOMAN.

Soldiers' Home Inmate Passed Fifty Years as a Man.

Quincy, Ill.—The sex of Albert D. J. Cashier, civil war veteran and an inmate of the Soldiers and Sailors' home here, has just been revealed by Colonel J. O. Anderson, superintendent of the home, to be feminine.

The woman, whose real name will probably never be known, served three years in the Union army during the civil war. She was mustered out of the service in 1865 and a few years later was placed on the government pension roll. She entered the soldiers' home two years ago, and at that time her sex was known only to Colonel Anderson, who promised not to reveal her secret. A short time ago she was adjudged insane, and as a result she was committed to the state hospital.

Revelation of her sex was made two years ago in Livingston county, Ill., where she was employed by ex-Senator I. M. Lish as chauffeur. It is said by the ex-senator that one day his machine would not run and the chauffeur crawled under the car. While she was tampering with the mechanism the engine started suddenly, and the wheels of the car passed over her, breaking her right leg. When the chauffeur was taken to a hospital it was discovered that she was a woman.

Washington.—The fixing of specific dates when certain features of the Underwood tariff bill shall become operative is being urged with such persistence as to promise success. It is desired to have the schedule comprising wool and manufactured articles thereof go into effect Nov. 1, leaving other sections of the measure to become a law Jan. 1, 1914.

The general impression prevails that President Wilson favors this extension of time. The chief reason for such belief arises from the fact that Secretary Redfield of the commerce department recently held a long conference with Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, on the proposition. Although Mr. Redfield is largely interested in manufacturing enterprises, it is not regarded as possible that he would advance a change of such significance and importance without the consent and approval of his chief.

The argument used by Secretary Redfield was that those engaged in many lines of industry demand a fixed date when the tariff bill should go into operation. They desire to adjust their business affairs in advance and be prepared for the change. This is especially true of those manufacturing wool products.

Great masses of petitions have been coming in from those conducting woolen business in all parts of the country, praying that Schedule K be made effective Nov. 1. They urge an immediate announcement by congress of such intention. They explain that it is absolutely essential in order that contracts may be made on that basis and raw materials purchased with that understanding.

Of almost equal importance was the suggestion brought to Senator Simmons by Secretary Redfield that the levy on incomes be laid only on those accruing after July 1, 1913, and not beginning with Jan. 1 of this year. This would defer the gathering of an income tax for six months. The plea is advanced that an attempt to tax incomes accruing after Jan. 1, 1913, might be regarded as retroactive legislation and be pronounced unconstitutional by the supreme court.

W. Fred T. Denison, assistant attorney general, and James F. Curtis, assistant secretary of the treasury, charge of customs, are the authors of an amendment of far-reaching importance. It had been previously laid before Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee. It has the endorsement of the attorney general and the secretary of the treasury. There is a possibility that it may be approved by the finance committee and presented in the senate before debate begins.

Under the proposed amendment the secretary of the treasury would be given authority to proclaim the dutiable value of any merchandise as finally decided by the appraisers in case of no appeal to be the dutiable value. But whenever in the judgment of the secretary it is practicable to make a general schedule of dutiable values he may from time to time proclaim such values, publish them to take effect in no less than fifteen days after publication, and "in the absence of such announcement proclamation shall take effect at the close of such fifteenth day, and such proclamation shall continue in effect until revoked or modified by the secretary upon sixty days' notice."

Such proclaimed values by the secretary would be used in lieu of foreign market values thereby steadying the customs case as derived from an ad valorem system.

Secretary Redfield Confers With Senator Simmons of Finance Committee. Wool Rates Likely to Become Effective Nov. 1—Other Sections of Measure to Become Law Jan. 1, 1914.

AN EDITOR IS REMEMBERED

Mr. J. D. Knowles, Editor of the Delaware Journal-Herald who has just been appointed a member of the state Board of Pardons by Governor Cox for the four year term, had the endorsement of Senator Haas. Mr. Knowles has many friends in Licking County. He is an efficient man and he merits the honor that has been conferred upon him.

It is not unlikely that there is a connection between war talk and dividends. It's been proved in Germany, and we have manufacturers of war material who may be capable of stirring up public feeling with a view to making their business more active. Of course they would not precipitate war; they would not cause men to be killed and mangled; but it is just possible they would like to have enough war feeling aroused to lead the Government to make naval supplies. There is no excuse whatever for any war talk. Japan may have a grievance against this country, but she will wait till she has several more before she resorts to force. She defeated ponderous Russia, but she is still suffering from her expensive victory.

Charles G. Dawes, of Chicago, who was once Comptroller of the Currency, views the tariff legislation with the utmost alarm and believes it is going to destroy industries. He claims that our shipping "has been driven from the seas as completely as though it had never existed through unwise American legislation." The fears he expresses about tariff revision are just as foreign from the truth as his claims about American Shipping. Mr. Dawes will find that it will all come out right in the washing and this will allay his awful fears.

NEW POSTMASTER-GENERAL HOPES TO ESTABLISH ONE-CENT POSTAGE

Albert S. Burleson, the new postmaster-general, faces many intricate problems in connection with the operation of the post office system throughout the country. According to those well posted in Washington, he comes well qualified for this position. Postmaster-General Burleson is a native of Texas, and was educated at Agricultural and Mechanical College, Baylor University, and University of Texas. He was admitted to the bar in 1884, was assistant city attorney at Austin, Texas, from 1888 to 1890, attorney of the twenty-sixth judicial district from 1890 to 1894, and was a member of the 50th, 51st, 52nd, 53rd, 54th, 55th, 56th and 57th congresses. He has been a keen student of postal affairs for many years.

One of the important matters which the postmaster-general will be called upon to deal with will be the establishing of one-cent letter postage. He has indicated to representatives of the National One Cent Letter Postage Association that he heartily favors one-cent letter postage and hopes to bring it about as soon as a satisfactory adjustment of affairs can be had.

He strongly favors efficient service in the department; adequate compensation for post office employees, and an equalization of postal rates. He hopes that one-cent letter postage is not far distant and that it may become a monument to the administrative ability of the department of which he is head.

Uncle Walt's Philosophy

THE EARLY FLY

The early fly's the one to swat. It comes before the weather's hot, and sits around and flies his legs, and lays at least ten million eggs, and every egg will bring a fly to drive us crazy by and by. Oh, every fly that skips our swatters will have five million sons and daughters, and countless first and second cousins, and aunts and uncles, scores of dozens, and fifty-seven billion nieces, so knock the blame thing all to pieces. And every niece and every aunt—unless we swat them so they can't—will lay enough dogged eggs to fill up ten five-gallon kegs, and all these eggs, ere summer hies, will bring forth twenty trillion flies. And thus it goes, an endless chain, so all our swatting is in vain unless we do that swatting soon, in Maytime and in early June. So, men and brothers, let us rise, gird up our loins and swat the flies! And sisters, leave your cozy bowers where you have wasted golden hours; with ardor in your souls and eyes, roll up your sleeves and swat the flies!

Wisdom from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 22.—[Special.]—New senators are going to be heard as well as seen during this first session of the Sixty-third congress. Already nearly all the new senators have come across with speeches of varying length. They have not waited until they had "become accustomed to the ways of the senate," as was the tradition of the past, but they have been in with their long and short talks "right off the bat."

It has been observed that former members of the house have been most ready talkers. We have heard from Shafroth of Colorado, James of Kentucky, Ransdell of Louisiana, Hughes of New Jersey, Goff of West Virginia, Norris of Nebraska, all former members of the house and new at this session. Then one day Sherman of Illinois, the newest of all, broke in and showed that he knew a lot about the tariff, especially about the pending bill. He even elicited questions from the oldest members of the senate, showing that the new men are not to be "hazed" because they talk.

Tumult in the "Crow's Nest."
Joseph Patrick Tumulty, secretary to the president, is quite democratic and modest in his way. He wanted to listen to the senate debates, and, instead of going on the floor, as was his privilege, or getting in the executive seats, also his privilege, or in the reserved galleries or even in the press gallery, where he would have been welcomed, he was found in the men's public gallery, the one generally occupied by the colored brother and which Colonel Dick Bright called the "crow's nest" when he was sergeant at arms of the senate. Secretary Tumulty just wanted to hear the tariff talk and asked no favors.

A Smoot Speech.
A speech by Senator Reed Smoot of Utah when it appears in the Record always looks as if the other senators made it for him, particularly if it is upon the tariff. There have been Smoot speeches of two days' length that were entirely by Smoot, but they were on some complicated thing like printing or some other uninteresting and little understood subject.

Now, everybody concedes that Smoot is a tariff expert, and as soon as he begins talking tariff all the other experts (and there are ninety-five of them) immediately try to get in and have their say also. Consequently a Smoot speech on the tariff is a running joint debate in which Smoot begins, but in which nearly everybody else takes part.

Same Old Methods.
It is found that the Democrats are adopting the same methods employed by the Republicans four years ago in making a tariff bill. The difference in the house was so slight as not to be noticeable. In the senate the Democratic members of the finance committee have been hearing the people interested in the tariff privately, and they are criticised by the very men who held the private hearings four years ago. Human nature is pretty much the same, no matter what brand of politics it wears.

"Hard to Abolish a Job."
"It's the same old question," said Jim Mann. "It's hard to abolish a job." The proposition to diminish as resignations or terms of service expire of six of the eleven members of the board of managers for the soldiers' homes throughout the country was under consideration. Men from districts where such homes are located fought the abolition of these offices. The senate stood firm against decreasing the offices, but Chairman Fitzgerald was persistent in having them abolished.

Told It to the Publishers.
Former Congressman Wise, who died a short time ago, was once invited to address the Periodical Publishers' association at one of its banquets. He told a very funny story of days after the civil war in Virginia, causing the assembled company of publishers, editors and magazine men generally to roar with laughter.

"Thank you," said Wise. "I thought that was a funny story, a good story, and I once wrote it out carefully and

The Human Procession

By conducting his own case and using "Sherlock Holmes" methods in cross-examining witnesses, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle recently emerged triumphant from a damage suit in which he got cologne for his accused of killing sheep. After utterly discrediting the testimony of the prosecution, Sir Arthur proved to the satisfaction of the court that his dog, a valuable animal and the playmate of his children, had a faulty jaw bone that rendered it incapable of killing a sheep.

Sir Arthur, who won world-fame as the creator of "Sherlock Holmes," will pass his fifty-fourth birthday today, having been born in Edinburgh, on Jan. 22, 1859. His father, Charles Doyle, was an artist, and his uncle, Richard Doyle, and his grandfather, John Doyle, celebrated caricaturists. Sir Arthur was educated for the medical profession and practiced many years, besides serving as ship's doctor on a vessel running to the West African Coast, and on an expedition to the Arctic regions. His first important work was in Scotland, where he published twenty-six years ago, and ever since he has been numbered among the most popular novelists of the English-speaking world.

The great writer of detective stories is interested in many public questions. For years he has worked to promote a better understanding between Great Britain and Germany. Irish home rule has found a devoted defender in Sir Arthur. He was formerly an advocate of suffrage for women, but the claims of the militants have alienated him from the cause, and he is now bitter in his denunciation of the "wild women." Fresh air "baths," billiards, oil-collecting and golf are among Sir Arthur's recreations and hobbies.

Major Baden F. S. Baden-Powell, author, student of aeronomics, and proprietor of several scientific jour-have sent it to every magazine and editor who sits here, and each time it was returned with thanks as being unavailable. So, when you invited me to speak here, I determined to make you listen to it, for I am convinced you never read it while it was circulating among you for so many months."

Predatory Animals.

All the noxious animals are not "bulls" and "bears" and such "predatory plutes" as have been mangled in many speeches. Senator Caffron of New Mexico and other western members are trying to have the government go after predatory wild animals which prey upon the domestic animals of the settlers in the west.

Two Democratic Senators of Louisiana Run Out on Democratic Tariff Bill

Washington, May 22.—Senators J. R. Thornton and J. E. Ransdell of Louisiana have "run out" on the national Democratic administration so far as free sugar is concerned. They will not vote for that part of the tariff bill sent by Oscar W. Underwood, leader of the House of Representatives. They will not stand for free sugar as advocated by President Wilson and adopted by the House.

But few expected they would do anything else. The last Underwood bill, which came up in the last session of congress, was opposed by them, so far as the sugar schedule was concerned. Ransdell, a member of the House, and Thornton, in the senate, voted against free sugar then. Nevertheless, President Wilson has such a strong hold on the senate that few political observers in Washington believe that free sugar will fail. Already there have been indications that Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington, the only third party man in the upper chamber—having put himself down in the

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

When Edith's Daddy Came Up to See Her.

DADDY smiled as he lifted Evelyn to his knee. "You do love your daddy, don't you?" he said. "Of course we do," both Jack and Evelyn answered. "Well, I'm glad to hear it. Edith loves her daddy too. Sometimes, though, she makes herself a bit troublesome because she wants him at her side all the time."

"Edith's daddy is a doctor. Often he is very busy and cannot romp and play with her as Edith would like. She forgets that little girls and boys who are sick may need her daddy to come and make them well."

"One evening Edith was sent to bed early. Her father was seeing some people in his office when she climbed the stairs."

"Never mind going in to say good night," Edith's mother said. "He is very busy now."

"Edith climbed to her room, took off her shoes and stockings, her clothes and climbed into bed."

"She was not a bit sleepy and chattered as long as her mother was in the room."

"After making her quite comfortable for the night Edith's mamma left the room and went across the hall into her own room, where she sat down to read."

"Edith listened till she heard her father's callers go out. She did not know, but he was still very busy doing some important writing. Edith felt cross because he did not come right up and see her."

"Mamma, I want to see daddy," she called.

"Go to sleep," her mother answered.

"A few minutes later she called again. 'Mamma, please tell daddy I want to see him.'"

"Shut your eyes and go to sleep. You can see him in the morning," was the reply.

"Edith tossed about on her pillow awhile, then she tried again."

"Mamma," she cried, "I've just got to see daddy!"

"You cannot," her mother sternly replied. "Your father is very busy, and I won't disturb him. There are some sick people waiting to see him as soon as he can go out."

"Edith raised herself on her elbows. 'Then, mother, he would better see me before he goes out, for I'm a very sick person myself. I'm homesick to see my daddy.'"

"Downstairs Edith's daddy heard what she said. He laughed, and you may be sure he came up then, though it was only to kiss her good night."

Congressional Directory as a Progressive—will stand for the Underwood measure as a whole. Two Democratic votes must be lost before it would become necessary for the vice-president to cast the deciding vote.

LOCAL CLAN ORDER OF GREGG ARTISTS

Wednesday evening at a meeting held at the home of Mr. L. G. Millisor, was organized a "Local Clan Order Gregg Artists."

The "Order Gregg Artists" is composed of writers of Gregg shorthand who have passed a required examination sent out and graded by examiners of the Gregg Publishing company of Chicago. The test is based on theory and beauty of outline. The order is world-wide, having members from nearly every country.

Those of Newark High school who have received membership cards are to be congratulated as the standard set by the publishing company is very high.

At present, though the Local Clan is small, it does not lack enthusiasm and it is hoped that it will steadily grow. The officers elected are: President, Hazel Killey; vice president, Harold Lamp; secretary and treasurer, Glenn Wilson.

How to Choose a Husband

DID you know," asked Phoebe, as she joined the group on the lawn, "that there's a course for girls in some schools on how to choose a husband?"

"Better make it how to catch a husband," said the girl who had stopped remembering her birthdays.

"It's the same thing," observed the cynical one, "when a girl's decided on the one she wants, a man has no show."

"Don't you believe it," said Phoebe, spiritedly. "That's the weak point in the whole thing. A girl doesn't have a chance to choose a husband. Her only chance is that of refusal. It's just another of the back-handed ways in which women have to do things, because they live in a man-made world. A girl may spend all her time learning to manage a home and never have a home to manage, because she has to sit and wait for a masculine invitation to be the mistress of a home. But at any rate, this course may help her to know when the wrong man asks her; and so be an indirect aid in lowering the divorce record."

"What course is it?" asked one of the listeners.

"It is a course in social ethics, and it is being introduced into some high schools."

"It will mean requiescat in pace for romance," observed the cynical one.

"Not at all," replied Phoebe. "But it will teach foolish girls 'romance' is romance. They'll know the real thing when it comes along, and not be fooled by the counterfeit. I heard a girl say the other day, she would rather marry a certain fellow whose nails were always carefully manicured, than another, worth the first a hundred times over in everything that makes real manliness, because this one went about occasionally in dirty boots."

"But those two things are typical of the character of the men."

"They are. But what character do they typify? The fellow who manicures his nails is an empty-headed fop. Manicuring your nails is all right, if you don't spend your life at it. The other fellow manicures his nails too, but he does something besides. He's a hustling, thorough-going business man, and he wears boots occasionally because the work he does requires them. And he has too much sense to let foolish pride interfere with his work. And it is silly ideas like these, this course is going to take out of girls' heads."

"The only way it will ever do it is to annihilate the girls," observed the cynical one.

But Phoebe scorned to notice her. "It'll teach girls true values," she went on, enthusiastically. "And what is more, it will have a good effect on men. If they find girls won't marry them, unless they are worth marrying, they will get busy and discard some of their bad habits. I think it is a fine idea. If we keep on doing things to improve the social order, we'll soon have a mighty nice world to live in. Marriage is one of the foundations of society; and when we bring about better and happier and more stable marriages, we bring about a tremendous improvement in society. And that is what this course will eventually do."

"I don't think it will work," said the cynical one. "You can tell girls all you please about the value of choosing a true worth and fine character, and all that; but when they come to play the matrimonial game, they'll still look upon personal appearance and social position as trump cards."

"I don't agree with you," replied Phoebe. "Most girls want real happiness in marriage. And when the surest road to it is pointed out to them, I think they'll take it. They have been ignorant of it heretofore, or misdirected, and that is the reason there have been so many mistakes. But now that they are beginning to see it clearly, I do not think you will find many of them failing to choose it."

SERGEANT WALSH TESTING SHOES FOR UNCLE SAM

Five pairs of shoes are required for a little ten-thousand-mile jaunt. At least that is what the test made by former Sergeant John Walsh of the United States army shows. Walsh was in Newark Thursday on the last lap of his 10,000 mile journey. He started from Fort Slocum, N. Y., July 27 last. He walked to the Golden Gate and thence back to Fort Slocum. He strolled over to Washington, D. C., and then started to Columbus, via Wheeling. He expects to reach Columbus tonight.

Walsh's trip is not entirely a pleasure stroll. People don't take 10,000 mile jaunts merely for pleasure. His business is serious. Uncle Sam wants to know about the lasting qualities of certain shoes which the manufacturers are anxious to have adopted for army use. Samuel thought the best way was to give them a thorough test, and Sergt. Walsh was selected as the tester.

While in Newark, Walsh was a guest at the Elk's club. He carries authorized credentials and had no post cards to sell or other little petty grafts so often worked by pedestrians. He's not walking to decide a bet and no Eastern newspaper or magazine has offered him a thousand or ten thousand dollars to complete the journey in a certain length of time.

In these points at least, Walsh is in a class by himself as a pedestrian.

DECIDE UPON DESIGN FOR SERVICE BARS

(Associated Press Telegram)

City Solicitor Will Test Ruling of Atty.-Gen. Hogan

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, O., May 22.—City Solicitor Cornel Schreiber, of Toledo, today notified Attorney General Hogan that he will file a suit in supreme court to test the ruling of the latter that the Kilpatrick law amending the Smith 1 per cent law is subject to a referendum and that, therefore, it will not go into effect until August. The effect of this ruling is to prevent the budget commission from meeting before that time to fix the new levies. The Kilpatrick law breaks down the interior maximum of the one per cent law.

Vere, Jr., 163 Charleston avenue, Louisville." It is believed the dead man tried to climb the fence, slipped and was hanged.

COBURN PLAYERS AT GRANVILLE, O. SATURDAY NIGHT

The coming of the Coburn Players for the open air performance on the Plaza of Denison University campus, will be one of the most notable events of the school year at Granville Saturday night, May 24. The play will be lighted by powerful Calciums which throw the tree-bowered stage in fine relief and the audience into obscurity as it should be. The music incidental to the performance is not played by instruments but sung by a chorus of men's voices, rendering the quaint old songs in an exquisitely and entertaining fashion.

In the production of the play "The Canterbury Pilgrims" the greatest care has been exercised to insure the absolute authenticity of the costumes, songs and other details of the times of the pilgrimage.

This comedy, written by Percy Mackaye, the most poetic of present day American dramatists, preserves all the atmosphere of the early English day and is a fascinating and most interesting creation throughout. In it the pilgrims of Chaucer's Canterbury Tales come to life anew and Mr. Mackaye has boldly made Chaucer the hero of their plots and counter-plots, now grave, now gay he walks and talks with them. His adventures with the sprightly wife of Bath and the Prioress are set forth with a never-waning interest and at the same time the spirit of the Tales is preserved.

The failings and virtues of the queerly assorted band of Pilgrims are irresistibly portrayed by Mr. Charles Douville Coburn, who creates the poet hero, and by Mrs. Coburn as the wife of Bath, and from beginning to the end of the play there is not one moment of lagging in interest in the various situations of the comedy. Tickets may be obtained at Hall's drug store, 75c to $1.

GOOD DIGESTION MEANS A JOYOUS LIFE

Mi-o-na for Out-of-Order Stomachs.

Who ever heard of a jolly dyspeptic? Merriment and indigestion are as far apart as the North and South Poles. The dyspeptic should not be blamed if he is blue, irritable or grouchy—he cannot help it.

No one who has a coated tongue, dizziness, nerves on edge, sour and gassy stomach, and knows that he cannot eat a hearty meal without stomach distress, can be sweet tempered or enjoy life.

Why allow this condition to continue? Mi-o-na, a specific for out-of-order stomachs, can be had from any drug store on money back if not benefited plan.

Mi-o-na is not only a digestive which gives prompt relief whether taken after meals or at any sign of stomach distress, but contains ingredients which strengthen the walls of the stomach, stimulate the flow of the gastric juices, and restore the digestive organs to a normal condition.

The stomach must digest your food readily and supply the body with its proper nourishment before you can be well, strong, or have life assume anything but a gloomy aspect.

If you have any symptoms of a disordered stomach, begin the use of Mi-o-na at once—today. Why wait—stomach ills usually lead to something serious. Always keep Mi-o-na in the house—carry it when traveling. You have nothing to lose—for money refunded if not satisfied. Evans' Drug Store and druggists everywhere. A large box 50c.

THE ALFALFA CAMPAIGN IS SPREADING

(By Douglas Malcolm, of the I H C Service Bureau.)

Within the past week the first automobile alfalfa campaign the world has ever known was carried on in Kent County, Michigan, by the recently organized Kent County Alfalfa Growers' Association. The big "Automobile Special," in direct charge of the Grand Rapids Association of Commerce, was marked as the initial effort of the Agricultural Extension Department of the International Harvester Company of New Jersey to carry out their avowed purpose of establishing alfalfa on every farm in the Corn Belt. Professor Perry G. Holden, the well-known Iowa corn expert, whose services were recently secured by that Company, and Federal Agent J. H. Skinner of the United States Department of Agriculture, were the chief missionaries of this wonderfully profitable but sadly neglected forage crop. A systematic canvas from farm to farm, grange to grange, and oftentimes from field to field was made in an effort to bring to the farmer in his own home the facts and figures which have been stored up in the pamphlets and archives of the agricultural schools and colleges.

Taking part in the campaign, either in an advisory capacity or as speakers, were the following members of the Agricultural Extension Department: C. M. Carroll, formerly with the Crop Improvement Committee; W. R. Baughman, a prominent rancher and alfalfa grower of Texas; J. E. Waggoner, formerly of the Mississippi Agricultural College; R. W. Lamson of Iowa; J. E. Buck of Chicago; C. W. Farr, assistant county superintendent of Cook County, Illinois; the Hon. G. H. Alford of Georgia, and C. H. Allen, a retired banker of Ohio.

That the farmers were ready for the blessings which alfalfa strews over a neighborhood which gives it a neighborly welcome, was evidenced everywhere by the crowds that greeted the campaigners at every stop. At no time were any of the speakers without an encouraging audience, and on some occasions the party was obliged to divide, a part addressing the school children while others spoke to the farmers. The advent of the cortege into a community was made Alfalfa Day in the schools. In the towns the children paraded out to meet the autos, singing special alfalfa songs and waving flags. It is estimated that between three and four hundred farmers in that one county alone pledged themselves to make a start with alfalfa and do it according to the rules laid down by Federal Expert J. H. Skinner.

Kent County, in the census of 1910, was credited with raising only 73 acres of alfalfa, but all indications at the present time are that by 1915 there will be 10,000 acres flourishing with this legume. It was shown that on the typical sand or clay loams east of the Mississippi alfalfa could be raised as easily and as surely as clover yielding three crops a season and that it was the greatest plant the farm world has yet discovered for extracting nitrogen from the air and storing it up in the soil, thus rejuvenating run down and over-cropped farms.

The Corn Belt farmer in alarm at his annually diminishing yields, is turning to alfalfa as his one great hope, and the bugle call sounded in Kent County is re-echoing in the entire eastern states. As we go to press, a similar campaign is going on in Allegan County, Michigan. The Toledo Commercial Club is about to wage a powerful alfalfa propaganda in the ten western counties of Ohio. Feathers have been put out by the Connecticut agriculturists for turning the entire I H C Agricultural Extension Department batteries on that state for a state-wide campaign to introduce alfalfa on the seaboard. Its possibilities seem to be unlimited, and the prospects are that by the next census the leadership in alfalfa acreage and production may be wrested from the western states and the crown placed upon the brow of the middle west and eastern farmer.

UNCLE SAM'S REPLY
CONSIDERED VERY UNSATISFACTORY

(Associated Press Telegram)
Tokio, May 22.—The reply of the United States government to the Japanese protest in regard to the California alien land ownership legislation in saying that it does not involve any violation of the treaty between the United States and Japan, has caused great disappointment in official and other circles here.

The Japanese foreign office considers it unsatisfactory, as it does not mention any intention on the part of the government at Washington to take official steps to nullify the act passed by the California legislature.

The Japanese foreign minister is urging upon Viscount Chinda, Japanese ambassador at Washington, the necessity of pressing the Japanese interpretation of the American-Japanese treaty.

Secretary of State Bryan's proposal to refer the question to a referendum to the state of California is not received with favor here as the result is considered doubtful.

The war talk emanating from Europe and reaching here by cable regarding the controversy between Japan and the United States on the land ownership question is not understood in official and other circles here. The atmosphere is calm and great reserve is shown.

have begun to speak out more freely. The leading daily newspaper, "The Osaka Mainichi," finds amusement in what it calls the American fear of Japanese aggression. It says:
"All Japan wants for the Japanese is equal treatment with white men. Japan's progress has reached the point where she will no longer consent to discrimination being shown against her subjects."

The general hope is expressed here that the reply sent from Washington is not America's final word, especially as the United States government by its intervention in California inspired the belief here that it would adopt strong measures in behalf of the Japanese. It is believed in Japan that the difficulty will eventually be settled by diplomacy, but the question of how Japan is to proceed next is a puzzle to the authorities. Japan is a stranger to the technicalities of American laws and does not see her way clear to take the initiative in a law suit, while national patriotism prevents a formal request that naturalization be granted, which would mean the virtual expatriation of Japanese subjects.

Public opinion however seems to be in favor of a demand for naturalization as the most feasible means of satisfying Japanese prestige.

"STARVE THE FLY."

Ours is a country home, but we have very few flies. Our method is based upon the principle of "barring and starving." In other words, we keep them out and give them nothing to eat, says a writer in the Woman's Home Companion.

Fighting the fly in the country is exceedingly difficult because of the wide range and the numerous places where the insect can breed. On the farm the most common of these places are the barns and manure piles, pigsties, chicken houses and toilets. We began by making the barn scrupulously clean. This was not a difficult task and no more than should be done on every country place. The "fly part" of the barn is the stables. Using plank doors, cleaning the stalls both morning and evening and sprinkling a little powdered lime about gave the flies no chance. The manure was thrown into a box outside, and this box is on a sled, ready to be hauled away at once and thrown on the garden or fallow land. Powdered lime sprinkled in the box, when empty, keeps this fly proof.

Then came the "barring and starving" process for the house. Both for convenience and comfort we installed a complete plumbing system, with hot and cold water, in the house. In this day of gasoline engines, hydraulic rams and other simple as well as economical methods of installing water systems every farm home should have a plant of this sort. This required a sewer system, but the one drain and line of waste pipe also sufficed for the kitchen sink and stationary washtub. The sewer pipe, which was four inch close joint tile, was run down the hill from the house into a drain. No cess-pool or tank was used, but the outlet was converted into a veritable flower garden. The only flies that congregated about this spot are butterflies. To assist in absorbing all waste the outlet is changed from time to time and the former spot covered with earth.

One thing is very essential, however, for a sewerage system of this sort—that is, a large vent pipe, not less than two inches, for the toilet and sinks. We have such a pipe or pipes, connecting them to a final line and butting this into the brick flue of the kitchen. This creates an upward draft, which sucks out and keeps the sewer line and drain clean of all odor and poisonous gases. By sprinkling chloride of lime in and close around the drain now and then we are given no trouble with this part of the system, and it remains continually fly proof.

Camp Chase, the mecca of over 200 Brazilian gypsies assembled in their national convention near Wagram on the Ohio Electric railway, is proving a popular attraction for crowds of the curious from all surrounding parts of the country.

Following the Advocate's publication of a description of the camp and its inhabitants Wednesday, the evening rain caught a number of autoists and several parties in other vehicles who had ventured out to view the camp.

Anticipating the coming rain storm, the gypsies sought cover early in the afternoon and were divided into council bands when most of the late afternoon visitors arrived. They had taken many of their colored blankets, cushions and other trappings into their tents and wagons until after the rain.

Many auto parties have been arranged in Newark, however, to visit the camp this week, and it is expected that next Sunday will witness immense crowds. The gypsies take the curiosity of the crowds good naturedly and appear unmoved by the steady gaze of curious sight-seers, for they're used to it.

George Williams, the centenarian and honorary king of the band, whose photograph is herewith reproduced, proves a feature attraction. Sitting most of the time squatting on the ground in front of his tent, the aged gypsy regards the visitors with the utmost unconcern, apparently, but if the nomads believe they will be granted any degree of privacy in their camp without issuing no trespass orders, they are mistaken.

Women of the camp, in their gay head dress of gaudy and varicolored bandanna handkerchiefs, have found a rushing business in the fortune telling line, and it seems that the novelty of visiting the seers in camp has proven a big drawing card, for women and girls from all over the surrounding community have invaded the camp with outstretched palms, willing enough to present the much-sought coin.

The price asked by the seers seems to depend upon their judgment of the wealth of the patron. If they solicit patronage from a stranger their price may drop as low as ten or fifteen cents for a palm reading, while twenty-five cents is the standard.

"Give good luck," is the common greeting extended to visitors by the business seeking women of the camp.

King John spends the days loitering in an open sided tent with his male brethren, discussing the question of individual superiority in strength, ball pitching and card playing.

The gypsies are jubilant over their camp, and insist upon Americans being informed of their delight at being able thus to get together for conference and fun.

ROYALTY ARRIVING

telectives. The inhabitants of Berlin, whose passion for spectacles is well known, were today able to obtain full gratification of their desires in that respect. The crowds were even greater than those of yesterday. People packed sidewalks, windows, balconies and roofs whence they had an almost constant view of passing and repassing royal processions from eight in the morning until after noon.

Very early in the day the dowager Duchess of Baden, the Emperor's aunt, and the senior living member of the royal family of Prussia arrived. She was followed shortly afterward by the Duke and Duchess of Cumberland.

On each occasion the Emperor William, the Empress, Prince Ernest August of Cumberland, and his bride-to-be, the Princess Victoria Louise, together with a large contingent of princes and princesses, drove to the station to escort the arriving guests to the castle.

All the processions followed the same route from the Anhalt terminus through Koenigsplatz street and the Avenue of Victory and along Unter den Linden to the castle.

At the arrival of the Duchess of Baden the Emperor William—always a model of punctuality—was late, probably for the first time in his life, and the spectators on the state platform were treated to the spectacle of his majesty in a hasty run endeavoring to reach the halting place of the railway car before his aunt stepped out. He lost the race.

Beside the principal guests a swarm of minor princes and princesses arrived at the other stations in Berlin, each adding a flash of bright color to the streets while passing to the castle, the princess palace and the hotels where they are to be lodged during the wedding festivities.

The throngs of the street were good naturedly enthusiastic in their demonstrations and there was an almost constant roll of cheering throughout the day.

June The Month of Weddings

The pleasure of giving as well as the joy of receiving depends greatly upon the amount of thought and personality used in selecting a gift. In presenting an appropriate, well-chosen gift the idea of dollars and cents value is secondary, as it properly should be.

Now that June, the season of many weddings, is approaching it is well for those contemplating the purchase of gifts to bestir themselves and decide upon what they will give.

THE ADVOCATE'S advertising columns offer many suggestions that are timely and valuable. A careful reading will doubtless solve the perplexing question of "what to give."

Using THE ADVOCATE'S advertisements as a guide, one not only makes sure of covering a wide variety of possible gifts, but also greatly simplifies the actual purchasing and sending of presents.

TESTIMONY

nis J. Collins, charged with conspiracy to "plant" the explosive was resumed before Judge John C. Crosby in the Superior court today.

Breen's testimony today was awaited with great interest by the crowd that filled the court room, principally because of his declaration just before adjournment yesterday that he refused several months ago to accept an offer of $7,000 made by the attorney conducting the cross-examination, Daniel H. Coakley, senior counsel for Mr. Atteaux.

Breen said he had been engaged by Atteaux to plant the dynamite and that later he had been sued by a number of persons who were arrested when the explosives were found on their premises. He had sought financial assistance from Atteaux to settle the cases, he said, but because of the conditions imposed he had refused the offer.

Up to the opening of today's session none of the testimony had connected Mr. Wood with the alleged conspiracy.

The alleged purpose in "planting" the explosive was to create a suspicion that the strikers planned to blow up the mills and so prejudice the public against the labor element.

Before the cross examination of Breen was resumed today, Collins was recalled to testify to a conversation with Breen after the latter's conviction. The witness could not remember that Breen had said "I am going to get back at those people because they gave me a raw deal." And did not think that he had told any one of such a conversation.

Breen then took the stand and was questioned regarding a telephone conversation with Police Inspector Rooney of Boston on the night of January 19. He said that when he told the inspector not to come to Lawrence until the next morning it was not because he had not finished "planting" the dynamite. Some of the explosives was placed after Rooney's arrival at Lawrence.

Reference was made to the suits for damages brought against Breen by Atteaux, who had been arrested after dynamite had been found on their premises. The witness could not recall that he had agreed with the attorney for two of the plaintiffs to settle by a cash payment to each of the parties of $300 on June 17. Nor could he remember having postponed the promised payments successively to July 1, July 5 and July 11.

"Did you say to Atteaux when you came to him for the $13,000 on July 13, that your trial had bankrupted you?" asked Mr. Coakley.

"I don't remember. I may have," replied the witness. He denied that he had said to Atteaux, "If you ask Mr. Wood, don't you think he would help me out?" and that Atteaux replied:

"I would as soon think of taking Mr. Wood by the throat as of mixing him up in such a nasty mess as this."

Referring to telephone conversations between Atteaux and himself, Breen said he could not recall one during which he said to Atteaux: "There's going to be an explosion one of these days," and to which Atteaux replied: "I hope it won't be of dynamite," and hung up the receiver.

The witness denied emphatically having said to Atteaux over the telephone on another occasion: "I wonder how your friend would like to have the labor men know about this."

Breen said that Atteaux finally referred him to Wm. Watts, a former chief inspector of the Boston police and now the head of a private detective agency and Watts in turn sent him to Attorney Coakley.

TO CONSIDER
PENSION FOR PATROLMEN

The city council will probably have an opportunity at the next meeting to consider a pension ordinance for the members of the police department. Such an ordinance was passed last Monday night for the firemen and for a time there was a feeling among the police officers that they had not been treated fairly.

An investigation revealed the fact, however, that the firemen had engaged an attorney to prepare the bill establishing the fund for their department and that none of the councilmen was responsible for its being drafted. It is also understood that Councilman Dwyer, who introduced the measure thought it included the police department.

According to a statement made to the Advocate Thursday, a bill will be prepared before the next council meeting providing for the police pension fund. It will probably be favorably acted upon when formally presented to the council.

Procured Lydia E. Pinkham's

a Well Woman.

Middletown, Pa.—"I had headache, backache and such awful bearing down pains that I could not be on my feet at times and I had organic inflammation so badly that I was not able to do my work. I could not get a good meal for my husband and one child. My neighbors said they thought my suffering was terrible."

"My husband got tired of seeing me suffer and one night went to the drug store and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me I must take it. I can't tell you all I suffered and I can't tell you all that your medicine has done for me. I was greatly benefited from the first and it has made me a well woman. I can do all my housework and even helped some of my friends as well. I think it is a wonderful help to all suffering women. I have got several to take it after seeing what it has done for me."—Mrs. EMMA ESPENSHADE, 219 East Main St., Middletown, Pa.
